row. I feel satisfied that the public realizes the plans which the government has made are sufficiently comprehensive to meet any eventuality that may arise." The manifesto concludes by announcing that the parliament will adjourn Tuesday after passing a vote of condolence with Mrs. Twaddle and the relatives of the murdered member.

SURRENDER TO VALERIA

LONDON, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The agreement reached in Dublin Saturday by leaders of the political factions is regarded by most of the editorial writers of today's London newspapers as the surrender of Michael Collins to Eamon de Valera. They do not see how it will enable the Irish people to express their will respecting the Anglo-Irish treaty. Some also find a connection between the peace pact and the outbreak of violence in the north.

The Times declares that those responsible for the outrages in the north acted identically with the extremists in the south, the object in each case being to overcome the north's resistance to union by coercion and violence.

ELECTIONS EMPTY FORM

The elections will be little more than an empty form, the Times adds. At the elections Ireland was to have decided whether she accepted or rejected a constitution based on the treaty. It now is apparently proposed to withdraw that question from the people and establish a new executive in which the Republicans have a voice virtually equal with the pro-treaty party.

The only thing one sees with clearness," writes the Daily Telegraph's Dublin correspondent, "is the possibility, indeed, the probability, that within a short time we shall have a firm demand for an independent Irish republic."

CONSTABLE SHOT

An exchange telegraph dispatch says former head constable of the Royal Irish Constabulary who had just been retired from the service, was shot dead at his home in Rappan, county Donegal, on Sunday.

INVITED TO MEETING

The British government has invited the Irish signatories to the Anglo-Irish treaty to come to London and discuss with the British signatories the agreement signed Saturday between representatives of the provisional government and the followers of Eamon de Valera. It was announced in the house of commons this afternoon by Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies.

lift the gold to the surface with a 20-ton boom.

He plans to lift intact the Lusitania purser's safe which is estimated to contain $1,000,000 in money and jewelry. Very little is believed to be in the purser's safe of the Arabic, which lies 40 miles from the Lusitania wreck.

Leavitt is a small, stocky man, with scant hair, and blue eyes. He is 51 and has been a diver 25 years. In that time he never had an accident under water—but a few years ago broke an ankle in an automobile accident.

FOUR OTHER DIVERS

"I will make the first trip down to the Lusitania," he said.

After that four divers, C. F. Wilson, Madison Marcus, Raymond Moore and Harold Ericson, will go down two at a time in two-hour shifts.

Commanding the Blakely will be Captain Charles S. Richards. The ship's crew will comprise 34 men and the salvage crew 20.

"Three weeks' pleasant weather will do both jobs," said Leavitt. "We ought to get through before September 15. On that date we'll have to quit because of storms."

PRIZE AWARDED TO TARKINGTON

'Alice Adams' Found Best Novel of Year in Pulitzer Gifts

NEW YORK, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Booth Tarkington again has won the Pulitzer prize of $1,000 for the American novel best presenting the "wholesome atmosphere of American life and the highest standards of American manners and manhood." Columbia university announced Sunday. The prize-winning novel was "Alice Adams."

Eugene O'Neill's "Anna Christie" won the $1,000 prize for the American play best representing the "educational value and power of the stage in raising the standard of moral, good taste and good manners."

THREE BEST BOOKS

The $2,000 prize for the "best book of the year upon the history of the United States" goes to James Truslow Adams for "The Founding of New England," and the $1,000 prize for the "best American biography teaching patriotic and unselfish services to the people, illustrated by an eminent example, excluding as too obvious, the names of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln" to Hamlin Garland for "A Daughter of the Middle Border."

Edwin Arlington Robinson's "Collected Poems" won the $1,000 prize for the best volume of verse published during the year.

The Arlington ceremonies for America's "unknown soldier" last November provided the material from which were written the prize-winning newspaper stories and the prize-winning newspaper editorial of the year.

NEWSPAPER AWARDS

Kirk L. Simpson, of the Washington staff of The Associated Press for his stories on the return of the "unknown soldier" were awarded the $1,000 prize for the "best example of a reporter's work during the year."

Frank M. O'Brien's editorial, "The Unknown Soldier," published in the New York Herald on November 11, won the $500 prize for the "best editorial article written during the year, the test of excellence being clearness of style, moral purpose, sound reasoning and power to influence public opinion in the right direction."

The prize of $500 for the best newspaper cartoon went to Rollin Kirby of the New York World for his cartoon "On the Road to Moscow," published August 5, 1921.

The New York World won the gold medal for "the most interesting and meritorious public service rendered by any newspaper" during the year for its exposure of the Ku Klux Klan.

WESTERN GIRLS WIN

Three traveling scholarships of $1,500 each for graduates of the Columbia School of Journalism who have passed their examinations with the highest honors and are otherwise most deserving, went to Robert Arthur Curry of Nassau, Bahamas Islands; Zilpha Mary Carruthers of Denver; and Robert Henry Best of Spartanburg, S. C.

These scholarships are awarded to "enable them to spend a year in Europe to study the social, political and moral conditions of the people, and the character and principles of the European press."

Edith Bell of Des Moines, Iowa, won the $1,500 scholarship to the American art student who shall be certified as the most promising and deserving by the National Academy of Design.

WARTIME COAL RULES REVIVED

Hoover Makes Plans to Allocate Orders and Defeat Speculators

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Administration plans for holding down soft coal prices were carried a step further Sunday when Secretary Hoover issued a general call for a conference of the 1500 odd operators whose mines are still producing. The conference is to be held in Washington May 21.

The operators will be asked to approve and put into effect the scheme of creating district committees to receive and allocate all orders during the duration of the strike, and with cooperation from a Washington committee, to prevent coal going into hands of speculators and middlemen who may increase prices.

WAR PRICES AS BASIS

Fifty operators controlling the bulk of present nonunion and open shop production last week pledged themselves to support the plan, using the Garfield prices of the war time fuel administration as a general basis from which to set up fair price standards. This would establish mine prices of bituminous coal in a range of from $2 to $3 per ton.

In the meantime, the administration expects the coal operators not to sell coal at prices in excess of the Garfield prices with such adjustments as are necessary. Mr. Hoover's statement on the general judiciary call said, "Furthermore, charges by wholesalers or retailers of larger commissions than allowed under the Garfield scale, or the re-sale of coal for speculative purposes is not fair to the public, and the government would like to hear from consumers who have been subjected to higher prices than this basis warrants."

The "vast majority of coal operators and wholesalers everywhere" have expressed approval of the voluntary price control plan, Mr. Hoover said.

OUTPUT UNCHANGED

As to the actual coal production situation, the geological survey reported Sunday that weekly output, which rose sharply to a total of 4,421,000 tons week before last, would remain approximately stationary at that point or might show a slight decline during the last week. Though the "market has quickened, indicated by rising prices for spot coal," the survey said, demand in some of the non-union districts "is not yet active enough to call out full time production."

Striking union miners have gone back in considerable numbers only in southeastern Kentucky and Tennessee," the report added, and the production figures "generally suggest no marked change in the number of men on strike." Anthracite production, it was said, "remains at practically zero."

CONFERENCE ASKS SHOALS OPERATION

FLORENCE, Ala., May 22.—Carrying banners and wearing buttons bearing the slogan "Muscle Shoals should not be scrapped," delegates were arriving here today from many states to the south to attend the conference on Muscle Shoals under auspices of the Southern Commercial congress, which will be convened late today.

This announced intention of the conference is to devise ways and means to expedite action by congress before adjournment on the Muscle Shoals question and to formulate a memorial to be addressed to the American people that "the Muscle Shoals fight is not local, but national in its scope."

Sessions of the conference today were held in Florence. Following an inspection of government nitrate projects and power sites tomorrow, the conference will assemble in Sheffield. Wednesday's sessions will take place at Tusculum.

RUSSIA GIVES PROPERTY BACK

Smaller Houses and Flour Mills Returned to Their Owners

MOSCOW, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—New decrees which government leaders say are designed to encourage the independent capitalist reconstruction of Russia on Russian terms have been promulgated coincidentally with the close of the Genoa conference.

The council of commissars has announced the removal of the state monopoly on trade in agricultural implements, permitting private persons to buy abroad through the commissariat of foreign trade.

Meanwhile the central executive committee, which is now in session, passing bills legalizing private property to a certain degree, has also decided to permit inheritance by husbands or wives and direct descendants of a maximum of 5000 gold rubles. The council is debating a project permitting ground leases up to 50 instead of the 25-year maximum originally intended.

The municipality of Petrograd has decided to hand over to the owners for life possession all the smaller houses, the maximum being seven apartments. Similar returns of houses are being made in some of the provinces, and the Ukraine is turning back flour mills of small capacity to the owners.

REPARATIONS SOLUTION IS NEAR, BELIEF

PARIS, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied governments represented on the reparations committee are looking with considerable hope upon the prospect of a permanent solution of the Garden reparations question growing out of the meeting of the committee of international financiers, including J. P. Morgan of New York, which will begin in Paris Wednesday. The circumstances under which the committee was formed indicates that the governments of France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium are disposed in advance to receive the conclusions of the committee with great deference.

Sir John Bradbury, British minister member of the reparations committee, is understood to have made the first suggestion that the commission should invite eminent persons in both allied and neutral finance to examine into the question whether an international loan could be issued for Germany to facilitate over a long term of years her cash payments to the allies.

COAL MERCHANTS FIGHT DISHONESTY

CHICAGO, May 22.—Announcement of the election of Homer D. Jones of Chicago, as president of the National Retail Coal Merchants' association and the adoption of the slogan, "More Business in Government and Less Government in Business," was made today as the delegates to the national convention departed for their homes.

"It is our intention," said President Jones, "to start an intense drive to eliminate from the coal business the so-called coal dealer who short weighs, substitutes and defrauds customers by bribing drivers, janitors and engineers."

Luscious Layer Cake or Dainty Cup Cakes

See how easy they are to make. Follow these recipes:

CUP CAKE

1 cup Sugar 1/2 cup Mazola
1 tablespoon Ginger or 1 teaspoon Cinnamon
1 cup Karo 6 tablespoons Kingsford's Corn Starch
3 Eggs 2 1/2 cups Flour 4 level teaspoons Baking Powder

Cream sugar and Mazola together. Add eggs, beaten separately. Add spice and Karo. Beat in dry ingredients sifted together. Pour into gem pans and bake in very moderate oven.

LAYER CAKE

1/2 cup Mazola 2 Eggs 1/2 cup Milk
1/2 cup Sugar 4 tablespoons Karo
1 1/2 cups Flour 1/2 cup Kingsford's Corn Starch
3 level teaspoons Baking Powder 1/2 teaspoon Vanilla

Sift the flour, corn starch and baking powder together. Cream the Mazola and sugar together. Add the Karo, the beaten eggs, the vanilla and the milk and flour alternately. Beat well and bake in two layers in a moderately hot oven.

It is not necessary to purchase both a bread and a pastry flour. By using quarter cup Kingsford's Corn Starch to three-quarter cup of any good flour the percentage of gluten is decreased and the starch content increased so that home prepared flour will make a lighter and finer grained cake.
